

Plantation drive organized at RGU campus

RONOHILLS, Sep-4: The Department of Social Work, Rajiv Gandhi University conducted a plantation drive in the University campus on Wednesday to mark the Teachers' Day.

RGU Vice-Chancellor Prof Saket Kushwaha has applauded the department for taking such an initiative to plant fruit bearing saplings. He further emphasized the students to plant more saplings on the occasion of their birthday. He also suggested the department to take care of each sapling particularly as a symbol of generosity and love for nature towards the university.

Head of the Department, Dr Kaushalendra Pratap Singh informed that it was to commemorate the Swachhta Hi Seva campaign which actually begins from 11th September but the Dept of Social Work initiated it in advance to mark the Teachers' Day. He further emphasized everyone to follow the principles of: reduce, reuse and recycle to keep the environment and surroundings neat and clean and preserve the beauty of nature. The program was attended by NSS coordinator Gomar Basar and other faculties and the students.
